

Final Project

Design

In this project, we will create a library with books and authors. On the main page, the three best-selling books will appear. We will create another page with all the books in the library, all with the option to view their details. On the authors' page, we will find the most relevant authors in order, and their information can be viewed by clicking on them. In our application, we can have authors with multiple books and books with multiple authors.

Use Cases

- List the three best-selling books on the homepage.
- List all the books in the library.
- View details of each book.
- Add books to "Save for Read" in the user's session.
- List all authors.
- View details of each author.
- Add books to the library.
- Modify books in the library.
- Delete books from the library.
- Search by book name and author name.

DB Design

On this website, we will have two related tables: one for Authors and another for Books. In the Books table, we will create a field for author(s) so that in the book view, we can see the book's author and access their information. Likewise, in the author view, we will be able to see all the books associated with that author.

To achieve this, we will use Django's ManyToManyField function, allowing multiple books to be linked to multiple authors and vice versa.

Web Design

- Home page

- All books

This screenshot shows the library's page for all books. It features the same header and bookshelf background as the home page. The 'Libros Recomendados' section is present. Below it, there are two rows of book entries. Each entry includes the book cover, the title, a brief description, a 'Leer más' button, and the price. The first row includes 'Cien años de Soledad' (by Gabriel García Márquez), '1984' (by George Orwell), and 'Un mundo feliz' (by Aldous Huxley). The second row includes 'Orgullo y prejuicio' (Pride and Prejudice) by Jane Austen and 'Culpa mía' (My Guilt) by Noah. At the bottom, there is a footer with copyright information: '© 2024 Library. Todos los derechos reservados.', 'Política de privacidad | Términos de servicio', and a link to 'Síguenos en Facebook'.

- Book - We will add an author field to the book model to indicate who wrote it, along with the ability to click on the author's name to view their details. Additionally, we will include a "Save for Later" button, which will allow users to store books in their session for future reference.

The screenshot shows a library application interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for 'Library', 'Home', and 'Authors'. To the right of the navigation bar is a search bar with the placeholder 'Buscar libro...' and a 'Buscar' button. Below the navigation bar, the main content area displays a book cover for '1984' by George Orwell. The cover features a stylized eye and the title 'GEORGE ORWELL 1984'. To the right of the cover, the title '1984' is displayed in large text, followed by the publication date 'Publicado: 8 June, 1949'. A detailed description of the novel follows, mentioning its dystopian nature and the concepts of 'Big Brother' and 'Newspeak'. Below the description, the price 'Precio: 10.40€' is shown.

- Search - we will add, if possible, the ability to search by book and authors.

The screenshot shows a search results page for the letter 'o'. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for 'Library', 'Home', and 'Authors'. To the right of the navigation bar is a search bar with a magnifying glass icon and a 'Buscar' button. Below the navigation bar, the title 'Búsqueda de Libros' is displayed. The results are titled 'Resultados para "o":'. There are three search results cards:

- Cien Años de Soledad: An image of the book cover, the title, and a brief description: 'Cien años de soledad es una novela del escritor colombiano Gabriel García Márquez, ganador del ...'. A 'Ler más' button is at the bottom.
- Un mundo feliz: An image of the book cover, the title, and a brief description: 'Un mundo feliz (en inglés, Brave New World) es la novela más famosa del escritor ...'. A 'Ler más' button is at the bottom.
- Orgullo y prejuicio: An image of the book cover, the title, and a brief description: 'Orgullo y prejuicio (en inglés, Pride and Prejudice), publicada por primera vez el 28 de ...'. A 'Ler más' button is at the bottom.

Authors

Federico García Lorca

Federico García Lorca (Fuente Vaqueros, Granada, 5 de junio de 1898–camino de Víznar a Alfacar, Granada, 18 de agosto de 1936) fue un poeta, dramaturgo y prosista español. Adscrito a la generación del 27, fue el poeta de mayor influencia y popularidad de la literatura española del siglo XX y como dramaturgo se le considera una de las cimas del teatro español del siglo XX. Fue asesinado por el bando sublevado un mes después del golpe de Estado que provocó el inicio de la guerra civil española.

Gabriel García Márquez

Gabriel José García Márquez (Aracataca, Magdalena, 6 de marzo de 1927–Ciudad de México, 17 de abril de 2014) fue un escritor, guionista, editor de libros y periodista colombiano. Reconocido por sus novelas y cuentos, también escribió narrativa de no ficción, discursos, reportajes, críticas cinematográficas y memorias. Estudió derecho y periodismo en la Universidad Nacional de Colombia e inició sus colaboraciones periodísticas en el diario El Espectador. Fue conocido como Gabo, o Gabito, por sus familiares y amigos.<sup>34</sup> En 1982 recibió el Premio Nobel de Literatura

Miguel de Cervantes

Miguel de Cervantes Saavedra (Alcalá de Henares, 29 de septiembre de 1547–Madrid, 22 de abril de 1616)<sup>35</sup> fue un novelista, poeta, dramaturgo y soldado español. Es ampliamente considerado una de las máximas figuras de la literatura española. Fue el autor del Quijote, novela que lo llevó a ser mundialmente conocido y a la cual muchos críticos han descrito como la primera novela moderna, así como una de las mejores obras de la literatura universal, cuya cantidad de ediciones y traducciones solo es superada por la Biblia. A Cervantes se le ha dado el apelativo de «Príncipe de los Ingenios».

In addition to these pages, we will add pages for the creation, modification, and deletion of books and authors.

Final Page

Now that we have finished the page, let's see how all the new implementations and modifications look.

On the home page, now we have the top three books sorted by rating.

The detail page for each book looks like this:

The screenshot shows a book detail page. At the top left is a navigation bar with 'Library', 'Home', 'Books', 'Authors', and 'Read Later'. On the right is a search bar with 'Search for a book...' and a 'Search' button. The main content area features the book cover of 'Cien años de soledad' by Gabriel García Márquez. The cover art shows a stone archway with birds flying above it. Below the cover, the title 'Cien años de soledad' is displayed in large letters, along with the author's name 'GABRIEL GARCÍA MÁRQUEZ' and the publisher 'DEBOLSILLO'. To the right of the cover, the title 'Cien años de soledad' is repeated in a larger font. Below the title is the publication date 'Published: 5 June, 1967'. A detailed description follows, mentioning its status as a Nobel Prize winner and its recognition as one of the most important works in Spanish. The author's name 'Gabriel García Márquez' is listed under 'Written by'. The price 'Price: 15.99€' is shown in blue. A rating of 'Rating: 8/10' is indicated. At the bottom are three buttons: 'Update Book' (blue), 'Delete Book' (red), and 'Add to Read Later' (green).

On this page, we can read the book's information: title, publication date, description, author (with the option to visit the author's page), price, rating, and finally, three functional buttons. The first button allows updating the book, the second deletes it from the website, and the last one saves the book to read later in the session. Also, if you look closely at the Books page, at the bottom, you'll find a button to add new books to the website. These pages would look like this:

- Add new book

The screenshot shows a web interface for managing a 'Read Later' list. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links for 'Library', 'Home', 'Books', 'Authors', and 'Read Later'. To the right of the navigation is a search bar with a placeholder 'Search for a book...' and a 'Search' button. Below the navigation, the title 'Read Later List' is centered. A small message 'No books saved in Read Later.' is displayed. At the bottom of the page, there's a dark footer bar containing copyright information: '© 2024 Library. All rights reserved.', a link to 'Privacy Policy', and another to 'Terms of Service'.

- If they are books saved to read later:

The screenshot shows a 'Read Later List' page with three saved books displayed in a grid format. Each book entry includes a thumbnail image, the book's title, a brief description, and several interactive buttons. The first book, 'Cien años de soledad', is by Gabriel García Márquez and was published on June 5, 1967. The second book, 'Harry Potter y la piedra filosofal', is by J.K. Rowling and was published on June 26, 1997. The third book, 'El gran Gatsby', is by F. Scott Fitzgerald and was published on April 10, 1925. Each book entry also includes a 'Read more' button, a 'Written by' link, a 'Price' link, a 'Rating' link, and a 'Published' date. At the bottom of the page, there's a dark footer bar containing copyright information: '© 2024 Library. All rights reserved.', a link to 'Privacy Policy', and another to 'Terms of Service'.

- If you want to remove a book from the read later list, you have the option in the book's view where the same button you used to add it will change to this format:

Now, moving on to the authors' page. We have a page featuring all the interesting authors from the library, where we find the author's name, a short biography, and the option to view the author's details. The authors are sorted from most to least readers.

The screenshot shows a web page titled "Authors". At the top left is a library icon and a navigation bar with links for Library, Home, Books, Authors, and Read Later. A search bar with placeholder text "Search for a book..." and a "Search" button are at the top right. Below the title, there are three author profiles arranged horizontally. Each profile includes a small portrait photo, the author's name, and a brief biography. A "Learn more" button is located at the bottom of each profile box. The profiles are for Gabriel García Márquez, J.R.R. Tolkien, and Stephen King. Below these are two more author profiles, also with portraits, names, brief bios, and "Learn more" buttons. The overall layout is clean and organized.

Also, there are some authors who don't have an image, they appear like this:

The screenshot shows a web page titled "Authors" with a similar header and navigation as the previous page. It displays two author profiles with placeholder gray user icons instead of portraits. The first profile is for Mikki Daughtry, with a brief bio and a "Learn more" button. The second profile is for Tobias Iaconis, with a brief bio and a "Learn more" button. Below these profiles is a blue "Add Author" button. At the bottom of the page, there is a dark footer bar containing copyright information: "© 2024 Library. All rights reserved.", "Privacy Policy | Terms of Service", and a small "Add Author" link.

Also, depending on whether the author has an image or not, the author detail view changes:

- With author image:

Bio:

Gabriel José García Márquez (March 6, 1927 – April 17, 2014) was a Colombian writer and journalist, affectionately known as Gabo or Gabito throughout Latin America. He is considered one of the most significant authors of the 20th century, particularly in the Spanish language. García Márquez was awarded the 1972 Neustadt International Prize for Literature and the 1982 Nobel Prize in Literature. He initially pursued law but left law school to pursue a career in journalism. Known for his criticism of Colombian and foreign politics, García Márquez became a renowned figure in the literary world. He married Mercedes Barcha Pardo in 1958, and they had two sons, Rodrigo and Gonzalo. It is also a lesser-known fact that Gabriel had a daughter, Indira, with Mexican writer Susana Cato, as part of an extramarital affair. She took her mother's last name.

- Without author image:

The screenshot shows the author detail page for F. Scott Fitzgerald. The layout is similar to the previous one, with a navigation bar, search bar, and author name. However, there is no portrait photo of Fitzgerald. The 'Bio' section provides information about his life, mentioning he was a military officer, host, novelist, and American writer, widely known as one of the greatest authors of the 20th century. It lists his five novels: 'The Great Gatsby', 'Tender Is the Night', 'This Side of Paradise', 'The Beautiful and Damned', and 'The Last Tycoon', which was published posthumously, unfinished. It also notes he wrote numerous short stories. Below the bio is a 'Readers: 178' statistic. At the bottom are 'Update Author' and 'Delete Author' buttons.

F. Scott Fitzgerald

Bio:

Francis Scott Key Fitzgerald (Saint Paul, Minnesota, September 24, 1896 – Hollywood, California, December 21, 1940) was a military officer, host, novelist, and American writer, widely known as one of the greatest authors of the 20th century, whose works are emblematic of the Jazz Age. Fitzgerald is considered a member of the Lost Generation of the 1920s. He wrote five novels: *The Great Gatsby*, *Tender Is the Night*, *This Side of Paradise*, *The Beautiful and Damned*, and *The Last Tycoon*, which was published posthumously, unfinished. He also wrote numerous short stories, many of which explore themes of youth and promises, age and despair.

Additional Work

As we have seen, there are functionalities that were not requested but I included them in the website. Among these, we can find the search bar with the possibility to filter by books or authors. Also, on the books page, we can use various types of filters. It is also interesting that both books and authors use a default photo if no image is uploaded. With this, we also have the different author pages, one with an image and one without the author's image. Finally, we have the "Read Later" page, which stores an array of all the books that have been added to this section, and it doesn't just work with one, but with several.
